VENEZUELA

Caribbean to Angel Falls

January 2027

VENEZUELA IN FULL

Venezuela changes remarkably as we travel across it.

The journey begins among the hills and busy streets of Caracas, then continues through colonial cities, Caribbean ports, the heat of Lake Maracaibo, the high Venezuelan Andes, Margarita Island, the eastern plains and the Orinoco region.

Those joining the final add-on continue deep into Canaima National Park for the river journey to Angel Falls.

Travellers completing the full tour will visit all seven NomadMania regions of Venezuela:

MODULE 1

Day 1 — Arrival in CaracasMonday, January 18, 2027Caracas y El Ávila*

Participants arrive at Simón Bolívar International Airport, where the local team will provide transfers into Caracas. The road climbs through the coastal mountains separating the airport from the capital.

The rest of the day is free to recover from the international journey and settle into the hotel. No formal sightseeing is planned. Overnight in Caracas.

MODULE 1

Day 2 — Caracas City Tour and ValenciaTuesday, January 19, 2027

We begin in the historic centre of Caracas, visiting Plaza Bolívar, the birthplace of Simón Bolívar and the National Pantheon.

The route also includes the Chávez Mausoleum and Los Próceres, a ceremonial complex dedicated to Venezuela's independence heroes.

We visit Ciudad Universitaria de Caracas, the modernist university complex designed by Carlos Raúl Villanueva and recognised by UNESCO. Later, the San Agustín cable car offers a closer view of one of the city's hillside communities. In the afternoon, we drive west to Valencia. Overnight in Valencia.

MODULE 1

Day 3 — Carabobo, Puerto Cabello and CoroWednesday, January 20, 2027

Our first stop is Campo de Carabobo, where the decisive battle that secured Venezuelan independence was fought in 1821.

We continue to the Caribbean coast and explore the historic centre of Puerto Cabello, an old port city with colonial streets and a strong maritime character.

Before sunset, we visit the dunes of Médanos de Coro National Park.

Overnight in Coro.

Los Medanos de Coro

MODULE 1

Day 4 — Historic Coro, La Vela and MaracaiboThursday, January 21, 2027

Los Colores de la Pesca, Coro - by 3Genesis, CC3.0

Founded in 1527, Coro is known for its earthen houses, churches, shaded patios and mixture of Spanish, Caribbean and Dutch architectural influences.

We also visit La Vela de Coro, the historic port included with Coro in the UNESCO World Heritage property. Around midday, we continue west toward Maracaibo. Overnight in Maracaibo.

MODULE 1

Day 5 — Maracaibo and ValeraFriday, January 22, 2027

Our visit to Maracaibo includes the Basilica of Our Lady of Chiquinquirá, the historic centre, local markets and some of the city's busiest commercial districts. We also see the General Rafael Urdaneta Bridge, which crosses Lake Maracaibo.

After the tour, we travel south toward the foothills of the Venezuelan Andes. Overnight in Valera.

MODULE 1

Day 6 — The Andean Route to MéridaSaturday, January 23, 2027

Los Andes Venezolanos - by George Miquilena, CC3.0

We leave the western lowlands and follow mountain roads through cultivated valleys, Andean villages and increasingly cool scenery. Several stops will be made along the route before reaching Mérida. The remainder of the afternoon is free to walk around independently or rest. Overnight in Mérida.

MODULE 1

Day 7 — Mérida, Páramo and Santo Domingo

Sunday, January 24, 2027

Teleferico de Merida - by AndresoLibertad, CC4.0

If it is operating, participants may begin with the optional Mukumbarí Mérida cable car, which climbs from the city into the high Andes. The ticket is not included.

We later continue through the Andean páramo, passing mountain villages and high-altitude farms. We visit Laguna de Mucubají before continuing to Santo Domingo. Overnight in Santo Domingo.

MODULE 1

Day 8 — To Barinas & back to Caracas

Monday, January 25, 2027

We descend from the cold Andes toward the warmer plains of Barinas. Depending on the flight time, a short local visit may be possible before heading to the airport.

Plaza Bolivar Santo Domingo - by Juan Pérez, CC3.0

After the flight to Caracas the program ends for travellers doing only Module 1. Those continuing with Module 2 prepare for the connecting flight to Margarita Island.

MODULE 2

Day 8 — Caracas to Margarita IslandMonday, January 25, 2027

The group connects from Caracas to Margarita Island, provided the domestic schedules allow a same-day connection. Travellers joining Module 2 separately meet the group in Caracas airport.

Guacamaya - by Ben Rodriguez

If the connection is not possible, the group will overnight in Caracas, join a light local activity and fly to Margarita early the following morning.

MODULE 2

Day 9 — Margarita IslandTuesday, January 26, 2027El Agua Beach - by Wilfredor, CC1.0*

We explore Margarita Island, visiting a selection of historic areas, local towns, viewpoints and coastal landscapes beyond the main beach resorts.

Even following a morning arrival from Caracas, the principal island excursion will operate. Depending on timing and conditions, there may also be an opportunity for a swim. Overnight on Margarita Island.

MODULE 2

Day 10 — Margarita, Araya Peninsula & Cumaná

Wednesday, January 27, 2027

Parque Ayacucho, Cumaná - by Luis Montaña, CC3.0

We return to mainland Venezuela by ferry or local boat toward the Araya Peninsula.

The precise operation will depend on maritime schedules and sea conditions.

After reaching the mainland, we cross Araya's dry landscapes and continue to Cumaná, one of South America's oldest European-founded cities. Overnight in Cumaná.

MODULE 2

Day 11 — Turimiquire Mountains & Cueva del Guácharo

Thursday, January 28, 2027

We cross the forested Turimiquire Mountains, travelling from the Caribbean coast into Venezuela's eastern interior.

Cueva del Guacharo - by Ben Rodriguez

We visit Cueva del Guácharo, a large cave system known for its nocturnal oilbirds, then continue to Maturín. Overnight in Maturín.

MODULE 2

Day 12 — Morichal Largo and Ciudad Bolívar

Friday, January 29, 2027

We stop for a boat ride on the Morichal Largo River, a dark-water river lined with moriche palms and dense gallery forest.

Waraos On Curiara (Canoe) - Ricardoricardo618, CC3.0

Later, we continue to Ciudad Bolívar, formerly known as Angostura. We explore the historic centre and see the Orinoco River and Angostura Bridge. Overnight in Ciudad Bolívar.

FREE DAY

Day 13 — Free Saturday in Caracas

Saturday, January 30, 2027

Ex President Chavez in Caracas - Ben Rodriguez

We leave Ciudad Bolívar early and transfer to Puerto Ordaz Airport for the morning flight to Caracas. Module 2 ends upon arrival in the capital, and travellers not continuing to Module 3 are free to make their onward arrangements.

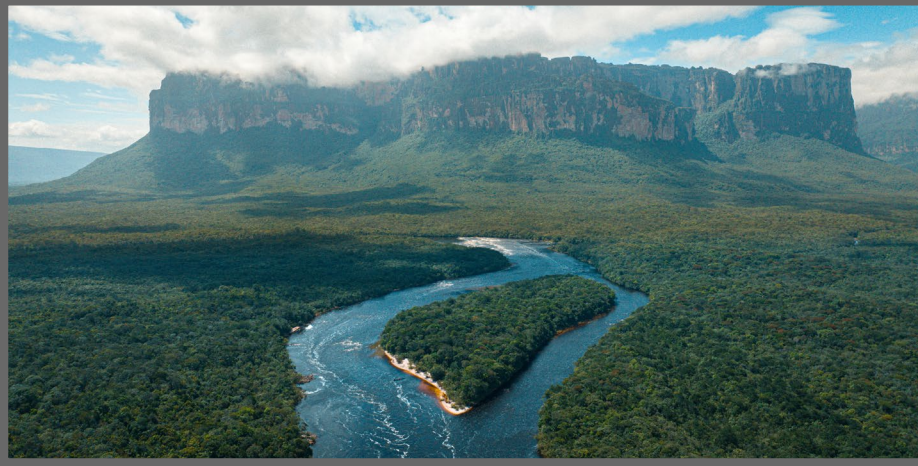

The rest of Saturday is completely free, with no organised activities.

Those joining Module 3 may rest or explore Caracas independently before meeting the group again early the following morning. Accommodation, meals and local transfers during this free period are not included.

MODULE 3

Day 14 — Canaima and the Lagoon

Sunday, January 31 • Dinner included

Orchid Island and Auyan Tepui - Ben Rodriguez
